

Subject: Consumables Product Lot Numbers

Effective Date: August 14, 2017

Products Affected: All consumable reagents manufactured by Advanced Analytical Technologies, Inc.

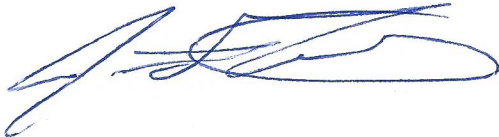

Dear Valued Client,

The lot code systems for Advanced Analytical Technologies, Inc. contains a base 8 characters to reflect the date manufactured and batch count for each product internally. Due to the number of products manufactured each day, it is possible for more than one product to have the same lot code. As a preventative measure, a portion of the product part number has been added as a suffix to the end of the lot number. This has been done to ensure each product and batch will have a unique lot code and will reduce risk of shipping an incorrect item.

Customers may reference lot numbers by the base 8 characters or the extended code which includes the part number.
